Sir W. J. HOOKER'S REPORT ON KEW GARDENS.

Sir, Royal Gardens, Kew, 16 January 1861.

In obedience to your instructions I have the honour of submitting to you the Annual Report on the Royal Gardens under my charge, for the past year, 1860.

One of the most satisfactory features of this Report is the considerable increase of visitors over the preceding year notwithstanding the unusually wet and cold Summer and Autumn. The numbers in 1859 were 384,698*; while those in* 1860 were 425,314*; making a difference of* 40,626 in favour of 1860, and 19,376 over any previous year; an advance which plainly shows that these Gardens are steadily increasing in popularity.

The following Table shows the days and months in which the greatest and least number of Visitors entered the Gardens in 1859 and 1860:

1858.	1859.	1860.
405,376.	384,698.	425,314.

It is further gratifying for me to be able to state, that though the mass of the Visitors come for enjoyment and healthful recreation, an annually larger proportion is attracted by the facilities given for the study of Horticulture, Botany, and the useful and commercial products of the vegetable world.

I shall now proceed to notice the present general condition of the several Departments of the Establishment, viz.: 1. The Botanic Garden; 2. The Pleasure Grounds, or Arboretum; and, 3. The Educational, Instructional, and Scientific Department.

I. The Botanic Garden.—During the past year there has again been a considerable increase in the Ornamental Department, and particularly in the number of Flower Beds. For the supply of these, and for forcing Ornamental Greenhouse Plants, an additional small Greenhouse, and a row of pits, heated by hot-water flues, have been erected.

Of late-years our extremely fine collection of Tree Ferns, the largest and most ornamental of all the Fern family, has suffered from want of space, and of that peculiar moist atmosphere which is so necessary for their perfect growth and health; and a new Hothouse to receive them is of urgent importance.

A very large quantity of Flowering Shrubs and Trees have been planted in the open Grounds; many old Evergreens have been removed and replaced by better; and the clumps broken up, and renewed over a considerable area of the Garden.

It is with especial satisfaction that I now proceed to report upon one of the most important Horticultural operations in which, as Director of this Establishment, it has been my privilege to co-operate. I allude to the introduction of the Cinchona Plant into our Indian and Colonial Possessions. In consequence of the enormous expense incurred by the India Government in the purchase of Quinine (stated to be upwards of 40,000 l. annually in Bengal alone), and encouraged by the success of the Dutch Government in establishing the Cinchona cultivation in Java, the Secretary of State for India determined upon making the experiment in our Eastern Possessions, and four gentlemen (Messrs. Markham, Spruce and Pritchett, and Dr. Taylor), assisted by competent gardeners, were instructed to search the forests in as many districts of the western slopes of the Cordillera, for living plants and seeds. Instructions were at the same time issued by the Treasury to prepare a double Forcing house at Kew for rearing the Seeds; and if necessary, nursing the sickly Plants en route for India.

The first cases of live Plants were collected by Mr. Markham, who arrived at Southampton in charge of them in 1860, and after transmitting to us a portion that were dying, he proceeded with the remainder to the Nilgheri Mountains, where he has reported his arrival with a number of live Plants. It is, however, upon the Seeds that the greatest reliance is to be placed; of these we have received three large supplies, in excellent condition, from Messrs. Pritchett & Spruce; and a crop of Seedlings is now flourishing at Kew.

Nor is it intended that India alone should profit by this experiment; for, thanks to the representation of his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, a portion of the Seeds has been liberally granted to several of the West Indian Islands.

Meanwhile, in anticipation of these operations, I had procured from our correspondents in England, all the Plants I could obtain of the two most valuable Quinine yielding species, C. Calisaya, and C. Condaminea; from the former of these cuttings have been taken; one of these has been sent by a careful hand overland to Mr. Thwaites, of the Royal Botanic Garden of Ceylon, and been received by him in good condition.

The collection of hardy Herbaceous Plants has been much augmented; and the system of exchange, advocated in my detailed Report of 1859, has been greatly increased. From the Botanic Gardens of Ceylon, Calcutta, Melbourne, Mauritius, Queensland (Brisbane), Jamaica, and Trinidad, valuable collections have been received; and as new correspondents, who have sent especially valuable collections of Seeds or Plants, I would mention Rutherford Alcock, Esq., Her Majesty's Consul General of Japan, and C. Pemberton Hodgson, Esq., Consul of Hakodadi.

Extensive collections, principally of Seeds, have been received from Dr. Kirk (Livingstone's Expedition); from the late Mr. Barter, and his successor, Mr. Mann (both attached to Baikie's Niger Expedition); from Dr. Lyall, in British Columbia; from M. Bourgeau (Palliser's Expedition); and from Dr. Hooker and Mr. Hanbury, who made a large collection, chiefly of Seeds and Bulbs, during a tour in Syria and Palestine.

The want of a suitable Library and Reading Room for the foremen and gardeners, and of accommodation for such of the former as it is thought desirable to lodge within the Gardens, having been laid before the First Commissioner, an addition to the Director's Office, which should provide the necessary accommodation, was sanctioned, and is now nearly completed. It consists of two sleeping apartments, and above them a lofty and airy Reading room, lighted both from the roof and wall; it will contain the Men's Library, which is, even now, well attended; and in it will be given the Lectures and Readings of our able Librarian, to which I shall have to advert under the head of the "Instructional Department."

2. THE PLEASURE GROUND, OR ARBORETUM.—Here I have the pleasure of reporting the commencement of the great Conservatory or Winter Garden, so long our principal desideratum, the completion of which will no doubt constitute an era in the history of Horticulture. In my last Report I stated that the site had been determined, and that a Plan had been prepared by Decimus Burton, Esq., and approved by the First Commissioner; also, that the tenders for its construction were under consideration. That of Messrs. W. Cubitt & Co., of Gray's Inn Lane, has now been accepted, and considerable progress has been made in the Works. Mr. Burton's Plan, which appears to combine all the requirements of cultivation with good general effect, consists of a Building 583 feet long, of stonework, iron, wood, and glass, raised on a Terrace four and-a-half feet high, and broken up into five portions united by vestibules, and having a clear vista the entire length in the middle. Of these five portions, the centre is an oblong square, 212½ feet × 140 feet, and 66 feet high, having on each side octagons 50 feet in diameter, which again communicate with wings, each 118 feet × 62 feet. The roof is necessarily of the ordinary ridge form, as no other would admit of the removal of a sufficient number of sashes to allow of the free entrance of rain and air during the Summer. Wood has been selected for the sashes in preference to iron, on several accounts, but chiefly because it excludes the cold better. The glass will be of the same tint as that of the Palm House. The different compartments (centre, octagons, and wings) will allow of the accommodation of Plants requiring different temperatures. It is further proposed to plant the trees in the central compartment in the ground.

Of the Lake (five acres in extent), which has for some time been in progress in the Arboretum, the margin and islands are completed and planted; and during the present year the tunnel communicating with the River will be made, and the earth removed to form the Terrace of the the Winter Garden, when the water will be admitted. In various parts of the ground old or crowded clumps of trees and shrubs have been thinned; new and ornamental clumps have been formed in different directions. The Queen's Garden has been much improved in this way. The two Nurseries, one for the planting of our own grounds, the other for the use of the Metropolitan Parks, are kept well stocked with young trees, and these annually furnish a large supply.

3. The Educational, Instructional, and Scientific Department.—The two Museums, filled with objects of the most varied and practically useful description, together with the rapidly increasing and unrivalled Herbarium and Library, are becoming annually more useful to those who study scientific or economic Botany.

Under this Department I have to report the appointment of Mr. Daniel Oliver, F.L.S., to the office of Librarian, which includes besides the charge of the books, periodicals, and extensive M.SS. (all in daily use for the purposes of the Garden, Museum, and Library), the keep and arrangement of the splendid and daily increasing collection of Botanical Drawings and Paintings, to the value of which I drew attention in my extended report of 1859. In addition to these duties Mr. Oliver continues voluntarily to give weekly evening instruction to the foremen and gardeners in matters connected with Gardening and Botany.

I have to report a large increase in the number of Scientific Botanists who have repeatedly visited the Library and Herbarium for the purpose of study during the past year, amounting to nearly 50 individuals; this is exclusive of a much larger number who have come only once, or a very few times. Of these, eight have resided at Kew for several weeks or months in prosecution of their studies. Amongst them I would especially mention M. Boissier, the eminent botanist of Geneva, engaged on the Euphorbiæ for De Candolle's Prodromus; M. Bourgeau, of Paris, occupied in arranging the Plants of Captain Palliser's expedition; M. Triana, of New Granada, who is preparing a Flora of that country, under the auspices of his Government; Dr. Harvey, continuing the Flora of South Africa; Colonel Munro, C.B., preparing a work on the Gramineæ; and Dr. Anderson, of the Bengal Army, who has been a permanent resident here during his furlough, and who has been indefatigably engaged upon various important works on Indian and Arabian Plants, and in preparing himself to undertake the duties of Superintendent of the Royal Gardens of Calcutta, to which he has been recently appointed.

To mention all the other Botanists who have conducted their labours at the Herbarium would be obviously out of place; but the following Works, being of national interest, require a notice :—*

Mr. Bentham, the Flora of Hong Kong, now completed under the auspices of the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Dr. Hochstetter, of Vienna, naming the Plants collected by him as Naturalist to the Austrian exploring expedition of the frigate "Novara."

Professor Henslow, in preparation of his Lectures to the Royal Family.

Dr. Boott, his splendid Work on the Genus Carex, of which a second part has appeared.

Mr. Howard, his magnificent History of the Cinchonas of Ruiz and Pavon's "Quinologia."

Dr. Hector, naming the Coniferous Trees of British Columbia, and Captain Palliser's Rocky Mountain Expedition.

Professor Hildebrand, of Bonn, on the distribution of Coniferæ.

Reverend M. J. Berkeley, a new illustrated work on British Fungi.

Colonel Strachey, his Work on the Physical Geography and Natural History of the Himalaya.

Dr. Bortschoff, of St. Petersburg, writing on Assafœtida, and other gum resins collected during his Government mission to Central Asia.

Of other scientific men whose works have been more prominently before the public during the past year, and who have been largely assisted at Kew, may be named Mr. Darwin, the eminent Naturalist; Dr. Forbes Watson, Reporter on the natural products of India; Professors Meisner, of Basle; Bunge, of Dorpat; Schott, of Schönbrunse; Kotschy, of Vienna; and Sonder, of Hamburgh; Mr. Thwaites, of Ceylon, and Thomson, of Calcutta.

The following Botanical Works have been published by the Director during the past year, the

* I here confine myself to new Works not alluded to in my Report of 1859; the Works of many of those therein mentioned are, besides, being steadily continued at Kew.

the materials having been wholly derived from the resources of the Garden and Herbarium: the "Botanical Magazine," "Species of Ferns," "British Ferns," "Garden Ferns," and "Second Century of new and Rare Ferns," all beautifully illustrated by Mr. Fitch. Various Botanical papers have been contributed to the Linnean Society by Mr. Bentham, Mr. Oliver, and the Assistant Director, who, in conjunction with Mr. Bentham, is further engaged in preparing a "Genera Plantarum," for the use of scientific botanists and travellers.

The following gentlemen, gardeners, and collectors, engaged on missions of public interest, have received instruction or assistance from the Royal Gardens, Herbarium, and Library: 1. In prosecution of the Expedition for Cinchona Plants, Mr. Markham and his gardener, Mr. Weir; Mr. Crosse, sent as gardener from Kew to Mr. Spruce; and Mr. M'Nicoll, sent also from Kew to Mr. Thwaites of Ceylon, for the special cultivation of Cinchonas; 2. Mr. Mellor, appointed to Dr. Livingstone's Expedition; 3. Mr. Wichura, Naturalist to the Royal Prussian Expedition to Japan; 4. Mr. Veitch and Mr. Fortune, both travelling in Japan, China, &c.; 5. Mr. Robertson, appointed from the Royal Gardens to the charge of the Gardens of the Protestant College at Malta; 6. Dr. Seemann, on a mission to the Fiji Islands as Naturalist and Reporter on vegetable products.

Collections of great value have been received from the following Government expeditions:—

From Mr. Barter his last Collections (previous to his death) from Dr. Baikie's Niger Expedition. From Mr. Mann, his successor, three extensive collections, including most interesting ones from the lofty "Clarence Peak" of Fernando Po, never before visited by any naturalist.

From M. Bourgeau, the concluding Collections of Captain Palliser's North American Exploring Expedition, chiefly from the Rocky Mountains. The duplicates of these, and of M. Bourgeau's former Collections, have been distributed in the name of the Royal Gardens to various public and private Herbaria.

From Dr. Lyall, beautifully preserved Collections from Vancouver's Island and British Columbia; together with a valuable Herbarium from Dr. Wood, of Her Majesty's Ship "Plumper," on that coast; and from Dr. Campbell, from the same localities.

From Mr. Wilford, a very interesting and well preserved Collection from Mantchuria, Japan, and the Straits of Corea.

From Dr. Mueller, large extra-tropical Australian Collections.

From the Honourable Admiral Sir F. W. Grey, K.C.B., very extensive Herbaria of Cape and South Eastern African Plants and Seeds.

The very large and beautifully preserved Hortus Siccus of the late Dr. James Forbes Young, F.L.S., of Kennington, has been liberally presented to the Royal Gardens by his brother, Sir Charles G. Young, Garter King at Arms. This important addition to our Herbarium consists of 150 folio volumes of flowering Plants from all parts of the world, and many portfolios of Ferns, Mosses, &c.; the formation and arrangement of it occupied the leisure hours of its late accomplished possessor for upwards of half a century, and it has been transmitted to us in a perfect condition.

I have, &c.

Sir, 1, Old Palace Yard, 13 August 1860.

I AM anxious to bring under the notice of the Chief Commissioner the present state of the works at the New Palace at Westminster, with reference to the funds available under the authority of Parliament for their completion.

Upon the receipt of your letter of the 5th June last, appointing me Architect to the New Palace, I at once endeavoured to ascertain how much of the monies voted by Parliament had been expended, and I have since carefully estimated the sum that will be required to finish the whole of the works now in an incomplete state; I should add that since my appointment I have not given any orders for new works, but have confined myself to directing the completion of those matters which I found in hand, and the cost of which was therefore beyond my control.

The Chief Commissioner will readily understand that, in consequence of the half-finished state of many portions of the works, and the continuous nature of several of the contracts, the investigation of the matters above referred to has been a work of some difficulty, and that I have consequently been unable to ascertain until now the actual position of affairs.

It will be remembered that, in 1858 a Vote of 109,040 l. was taken to finish the building; other Votes for special and extra services have since been granted and expended; but the works now in progress at the New Palace are those for which the sum of 109,040 l. was voted by Parliament in 1858. It appears, however, that since 1858, several works have been executed in different parts of the building, the cost of which, amounting to about 21,286 l. 19 s. 3 d., has been paid out of the Vote of 109,040 l., but which formed no part of the Estimate whereon that Vote was founded. These works, a list of which I enclose, have arisen partly from orders given since 1858, and partly from unforeseen expenses in carrying out the several works named in the specification.

I have no reason to doubt that the sum voted in 1858 was amply sufficient to have covered all expenses in carrying out the works then contemplated, apart from extra charges of the nature above referred to; and if the amount of 21,286 l. 19 s. 3 d. can now be replaced, I believe I can undertake with confidence that no further application shall be made for funds to complete the works in hand at the New Palace at Westminster.

On ascertaining the facts above detailed, I lost no time in stopping the works, and in calling for the accounts due to the several contractors employed. The latter are in course of delivery and examination, but some time must elapse before they can be finally made up and certified. I have reason, however, to believe that the unexpended balance of the Vote now in hand will be nearly sufficient to meet all claims that can be made upon it for work actually done.

I shall feel obliged if you will call the attention of the Chief Commissioner to the foregoing, and will furnish me with his instructions thereon.

I am, &c.

A. Austin, Esq. (signed) E. M. BARRY.

My Lords, Office of Works, &c., 24 September 1860.

I BEG leave to bring under your Lordships' notice that the sum of 109,040 l., which was voted in 1858 for the completion of the New Palace at Westminster, has proved to have been insufficient for the purpose.

Sir Charles Barry, acting, as he was accustomed to do, on his own responsibility, and without communication with this department, executed many alterations, additions, and repairs which were not contemplated in the preparation of the Estimates above mentioned, and incurred an expenditure of 21,286 l. on works not included in that Estimate. Of this sum 4,100 l. was spent on official residences at the Palace; 5,300 l. on the Victoria and Clock Towers; 2,200 l. on the interior approaches to the House of Lords; 1,100 l. on arrangements for gas; and the remainder on the crypt, on lightning conductors, on the preservation of iron work, on the outer walls, and on sewers and pavements. The consequence of which is, there remains to be voted 21,286 l. 19 s. 3 d. to reinstate the funds applicable to the works assumed to be necessary in 1858.

I have carefully considered the works which have been deferred, and I do not find that any of them can be omitted without leaving this costly building incomplete; but some of them may be postponed without risk of injury to the building, and without increasing the ultimate cost to the public.

I have requested Mr. Edward Barry, now in charge of these works, to explain to me what immediate expenditure is necessary for the protection of the unfinished portions, for the fulfilment of contracts, and for finishing with due economy portions of the work now in hand: he estimates this at 10,000 l. And as it would be detrimental to the public service to postpone these works until a further Vote of Parliament can be taken, I have felt it my duty to submit to your Lordships that the Board should be authorised to proceed with the works required for the completion of the Palace, to an extent not exceeding 10,000 l. I may add that in this expenditure I shall require the Architect to act more directly under my orders than has hitherto been the case in regard to this Palace.

I am, &c.

The Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury. (signed) W. COWPER.

EXTRACT from LETTER, explanatory of the STATIONERY OFFICE ESTIMATE for 1861-2.

Sir, Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 30 November 1860.

I HAVE the honour to send herewith, for the information of the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury, an Estimate of the sums that will probably be required to defray the expenditure of this Office for Paper, Printing, Binding and Stationery for the Public Service during the ensuing official year 1861-62. This Estimate, which has been framed with much care and consideration, amounts to 416,218 l., being 80,933 l. more than the sum (335,285 l.) voted for this service for the current year. But here it is necessary to observe that our Estimate for this year was really 347,285 l. When it was drawn up it was confidently expected that the excise duty on paper would be repealed, and it was assumed in the Estimate that we should save by such repeal 12,000 l. (or about half the amount of the duty) in the purchase of paper. But the duty having been retained, this anticipation has not, of course, been realised; and the price of paper, instead of being reduced, was somewhat increased: hence, adding 12,000 l. to our last Estimate, being the amount deducted from it because of the supposed repeal of the paper duty, its true amount will be found to be 347,285 l., so that the real excess of the present over the last Estimate is 68,933 l.; and as 47,000 l. of this sum is required to make good deficiencies in the last and former Estimates, the nett annual increase is only 21,933 l. And however considerable, I think I may venture to assure their Lordships that this increase has not been occasioned by any remissness or inattention on the part of this Office, but that it has grown out of circumstances which were wholly beyond our control.

My Lords will, perhaps, permit me to observe that, despite every precaution, there must always be a great deal of conjecture in an Estimate of this sort, it being quite impossible to foresee or appreciate beforehand the circumstances that may occasion an increase or diminution of printing, or of demands for stationery, or the extent to which they may operate. Our real business is to take care that the work we execute and the articles we furnish be of good quality, and supplied at the least cost; and these objects we endeavour to keep steadily in view. The following statement shows the causes of the increase in the Estimate:—

Estimate, 1861-62, 416,218 l.; ditto, 1860-61, 347,285 l. (including 12,000 l. improperly deducted for anticipated repeal of paper duty); increase 68,933 l.

I.—New Items of Charge.

The new items of charge, or those on account of offices or services which appear for the first time in this Estimate, and amount in all to 4,480 l., do not seem to call for any special remark. With the exception of the sum of 1,000 l. for printing for the late Statistical Congress, all of them are old charges, and were formerly provided for in the Estimates of the Admiralty and of the other Departments to which they refer. And though their transfer to this Estimate adds to its amount, I shall be much disappointed if it add anything to the Public Expenditure.

II.—Increase of Annual Charge.

War Departments.

The increase of 9,150 l. in the annual charge on account of the War Departments, and the 10,000 l. required to make good previous deficiencies therein, is hardly, perhaps, so great as might have been expected from the late extraordinary development of this important branch of the Public Service. It has been occasioned by various causes, but principally by an increased outlay on the Ordnance Survey, and a very large additional demand for brown paper for the packing of stores, &c. This paper was not formerly supplied by this office except to a comparatively small extent, but now the demands for it are very large indeed. There has, also, been a considerable increase in the value of the supplies to Government Schools and Military Libraries, and generally to most branches of the service. At present the authorities at the War Office are engaged in revising and condensing the Forms required in the Department. These are extremely numerous, and it is believed that the revision now going on will eventually be productive, exclusive of other and more important advantages, of a considerable saving. But in the meantime, owing to the printing of the new, and the suppression of the old Forms, a greater expenditure is being incurred.

The branch of our expenditure that has reference to the supply of books to the War Department has latterly been placed on a greatly improved footing. This has been done by printing the works that relate to the rules, regulations, and training of the Army and Volunteers in a more condensed and cheaper form. For example, the work entitled "Field Exercises," which formerly sold at 6 s., is now sold in octavo at 4 s., and a pocket, and equally serviceable edition, at 1 s. A similar reduction has been effected in the price of the "Queen's Regulations," &c.; the "Volunteer Rifle Drill" is sold at 6 d., the "Infantry Sword Exercise," and Bayonet do., at 6 d. each, and so on. And in consequence of this reduction in their prices the demand for these necessary publications, which may now be easily purchased by all classes, has been very greatly increased. Efforts are also being made to reduce still further the cost of the books and stationery sent to garrison schools. I beg further to add that in these and other measures of economy we have the zealous assistance of the authorities at the War Office and Horse Guards.

Admiralty.

The increase in the Estimate for the Admiralty depends on circumstances similar to those that have increased the Estimate for the War Departments.

Record Office.

The increased charge for this office has been occasioned by the transfer to it of the bills for printing Calendars of State Papers, Historical Chronicles, &c. These were formerly charged to the account of Parliamentary Printing, with which they have nothing to do.

Post Office, &c.

The other items of increased charge (with the exception of the Probate Court to be immediately noticed) grow naturally out of an increase of business and correspondence, and are, like the increased charge for the Census, too obvious to require explanation.

III.—Sums to make good Deficiencies in former Estimates.

Probate Court, &c.

The first great item under this head is that having reference to the expenditure on account of the Probate Court and late Prerogative Court of Canterbury. This item first appeared in our Estimate for 1858-9; and from the best information we could obtain at he time the probable expenditure was estimated at 1,200 l., and it continued at that amount in

in 1859-60. But this being found to be too small a sum, it was increased in the Estimate for the current year to 2,000 l. Shortly before its commencement, however, a new source of expenditure was opened, of the nature and extent of which we could form no just idea. This arose from its being supposed, apparently on good grounds, that it would be advantageous to print the Calendars of Wills, which had previously been kept in manuscript, and to send copies of the same to the Registrars in various part of the country, where they might be consulted by interested parties without obliging them to come to town for the purpose. The supply of this conveniency has, however, led to a very great and unforeseen outlay in printing. The following statement will illustrate this :—

The Calendar of 1858, of the extent of which we knew next to nothing, was begun to be printed in 1859, but it was not completed, nor did we know what the expense would be till about two months after our last Estimate had been submitted to their Lordships. When completed, the Calendar was found to make no fewer than thirty parts, demy folio (see specimen annexed); and 250 copies of each part being printed, it made in all 7,500 volumes, produced at a cost, including paper and binding, of about 4,346 l.

But this was not all. In addition to the Calendar for 1858, in demy folio, my Lords have authorised (Treasury Letter of 16th August 1860), the printing an edition of the same Calendar in foolscap folio, in a comparatively small type, in one thick volume, at an estimated cost of 3,568 l., to be offered for sale to the public; and that volume is now in course of progress. But its publication is understood to be only an experiment, and is to be given up in the event of its sale not being sufficient to cover its expense.

The Calendar of 1859 comprises, like the former, thirty parts, but of these only fifteen were completed on the 20th of November 1860, the other parts being then in progress. The cost of the completed parts, making 3,750 volumes, including paper and binding, has been 2,301 l., and supposing the cost of the second 3,750 volumes of 1859, yet to be published, to be the same as the cost of the first 3,750 volumes, the whole will amount to about 4,600 l.; and this may be taken as being about the probable future annual cost of the Calendar, unless some more economical mode of printing it be adopted. But it would appear to me that a considerable saving might be effected by reducing and condensing the type used in printing the Calendars, and by shortening the numbers printed. I have, in this view, had a specimen page set up in a condensed form, which is subjoined to this letter. It leaves quite as much space for writing as the larger page now in use, and appears perfectly to serve every purpose that is served by the latter. Had it been adopted in 1859, it would have saved 700 l.; but if no plan of this sort be resorted to, there appears to be little or no prospect of this item of expense being sensibly reduced, the Calendar being printed under the authority of the Act 20 & 21 Vict. c. 77.

Exclusive of the Calendars above referred to, authority has been given, by Treasury Letter, 14th November 1860, to print the back Calendars for the Prerogative Court of Canterbury from 1853 to 1857, both inclusive, at a total estimated expense of 2,850 l. It is, therefore, plain that we shall have to pay for printing, &c. for the Probate and Prerogative Courts in the course of the current year (1860-61) at least 12,000 l., and probably more; and there is little probability that the cost of printing, &c., for the same Courts in 1861-62 will be under 5,000 l., inclusive of the ordinary supplies of stationery. And hence the demand made in this Estimate for 15,000 l. to cover the extra expenditure incurred in this and former years under this head, and of 5,000 l. for the ensuing year.

Patent Office.

It was supposed, when last Estimate was framed, that the charge for printing Patents would be reduced. That, however, has not been the case; but, on the contrary, a considerable increase has taken place. But we are again led to believe that the bills for Patents will in future be reduced; and hence our demand for 24,500 l. for this service, being 8,000 l. to make good deficiencies, and 16,500 l. for the expenditure of the ensuing year. But whether this latter sum will be sufficient is more than I can undertake to say; and it is not really of much importance, seeing that the fees on account of Patents are more than sufficient to cover their expense.

War Departments.

The demand for 10,000 l. to cover arrears in the War Departments has been already explained.

Parliamentary Printing.

I intimated in the letter I had the honour to address to their Lordships that accompanied last Estimate, that negotiations were then in progress for the reduction of the charges paid to the Printers for the House of Commons, and I have now to state that the reduction referred to in that letter soon after took place; and though not by any means so great as I venture to think it might and should have been, still it effected a material saving, or one that may be estimated at above 3,000 l. on the bills of last Session.

It was said in Mr. Vardon's letter, referring to the reduction of the charges on account of printing for the Commons, that an experiment would be made in printing the evidence taken before committees in double columns, which, if approved by the House, would be farther extended; and in accordance with this statement the evidence taken before election committees has been so printed. But of the other and far more numerous class of committees, the evidence taken by the Committee on the Kensington Museum, and that on the British Museum, is, as far as I know, all that has been printed in double columns.

* * * * * *

I have already alluded to the rise (about 3 or 4 per cent.) that took place in the price of paper previously to the period when our last contracts for paper were entered into. I incline, however, to think that we have more than defeated that rise, partly by substituting machine-made for hand-made paper, and partly by reducing the weights of both descriptions of paper. Despite, however, the savings effected in this way, and the reduction in the printers' charges, the quantity of matter sent to press has so very greatly increased that we are compelled to ask for 14,000*l.* to make good deficiencies in the former Estimates for Parliamentary printing; but it is not supposed that it will be necessary to add to the Estimate for that service for the ensuing year.

Acts of Parliament.

The arrangement in regard to the printing of Acts of Parliament to which I alluded in the letter accompanying last year's Estimate has been successfully carried out, and our expectations of advantage from it fully realised. Whatever may otherwise be thought of last Session of Parliament, it certainly was very prolific of Statutes, so much so that while the Acts passed in 1859 amounted to only 970 sheets, those passed in 1860 amounted to no fewer than 1,396 sheets. Now, as the Acts printed in 1859, under the old system, cost 4,541*l.*, it follows, had the Acts passed in 1860 been charged at the same rates, that they would have cost 6,535*l.* exclusive of the rise in the price of paper. In point of fact, however, they only cost 3,382*l.*, or but very little more than half what would have been their cost but for the reduction. I am farther glad to have to state that, in consequence of this decline in their cost, the selling price of the Acts of last Session has been reduced from 1½*d.* to 1*d.* a sheet, which sum it is intended to charge for those of the next and following Sessions. The price of the Acts of previous Sessions has also been reduced from 2*d.* to 1½*d.* per sheet.

Supply of Pens, Penknives, &c.

I would beg to be again permitted briefly to draw their Lordships' attention to the plan I have taken the liberty of suggesting on former occasions; viz., that money payments should be made to the clerks and others now in the public service, in lieu of the pens, penknives, erasers, pencils, &c., with which they have hitherto been supplied by Government; it being at the same time laid down that all clerks and others entering the public service in time to come will be bound to provide themselves at their own cost with these articles. The adoption of a plan of this sort would, I believe, constitute an important measure of administrative reform. I have shown, over and over again, that it is not possible to make the purchase of pens, penknives, &c., the subject of efficient bargains or contracts, or of such as can be fairly and honestly carried out; and while you have this insuperable difficulty to deal with in the buying of the articles, their outlay necessarily tends to encourage habits of waste and misappropriation. Neither can it be truly said that these mischievous consequences are accompanied by any countervailing advantage in the way of cheapness. On the contrary, the system is as expensive as it is immoral. A payment of 7*s.* 6*d.* a year to each clerk would be a good deal more than adequate to supply them with the articles objected to; but supposing the allowance were to be increased to 10*s.* a year, the probability is that an immediate pecuniary saving would be effected by adopting the proposed scheme. This, however, is, in reality, a very inferior consideration. The distinguishing merit of the scheme is, that it would at once make an end of a system that is essentially corrupt, and that eventually the whole expense which it involves would be got rid of.

Sales of Waste Paper.

The produce of the sales of waste paper continues to increase, and will this year exceed 7,000*l.* There has also been an increase of about 50 per cent. in the produce of the sales of Stationery Office publications. This is mainly a consequence of the increase, already alluded to, in the sales of works having relation to the Army and Volunteers.

Stationery for India.

The supply of paper, stationery, and printing for the Indian Government, though nowise connected with this Estimate, forms an important portion of the business transacted in this department; and I am happy to have to state that we have been able to effect a much greater saving in the cost of the articles required for this service than could have been anticipated beforehand. It would appear from the best information at our disposal, that it is but little short of half the former expenditure on this head.

CONCLUSION.

Conclusion.

I may observe in concluding this explanatory letter, that there is, speaking generally, a strong tendency to increased expenditure in most departments of the service. This arises most frequently perhaps from increased business, but in addition to this legitimate source of increase, there are perpetual demands for more expensive papers, books, and articles of all sorts. With these, however, we comply as seldom as possible, for if once we began easily to yield to them, they would go on increasing in a geometrical ratio, till in no long time this Estimate would rise to a million sterling or upwards. And yet I have no manner of doubt, supposing it had attained to that or even a higher limit, that the demands for more costly articles would be as great then as at present, or greater. They are, in truth, altogether illimitable; and hence the necessity of adhering closely to the maxim of obsta principiis.

I have the honour to be,

* There were also received in the District Registries in England in the year 1860 Fees to the amount of 56,656 l. These Fees will from the 1st May 1861 be accounted for to the Public. The arrangement is explained in the Extract from a Treasury Minute, which will be found on the next page.

EXTRACT from Treasury Minute, dated 16th March 1861.

READ letter from the Judge of Her Majesty's Court of Probate, dated 11th ultimo, in which his Lordship offers certain observations upon the proposals contained in the communication from this Board of 8th ultimo, respecting the salaries to be assigned to the District Registrars of the Court, under the 111th section of the Act 20 & 21 Vict. c. 77. Read letter from the District Registrar of the Court of Probate at Ipswich, dated 4th instant, submitting on behalf of the District Registrars generally, some further observations in reference to the question of their salaries.

My Lords have also before them the Returns which have been transmitted by the several District Registrars in England, setting forth the total number of grants made, together with an account of the fees received, in the year 1860. The transmission of these returns has enabled their Lordships, in fixing the salaries of the District Registrars, to have under their consideration the extent of the business in the several district registries in each of the three years since the Act came into operation, together with the gross and net emoluments which the Registrars have respectively derived therefrom under the authorised tables of fees fixed in conformity with the 95th section of the Act.

There are, however, other sources of emolument by which District Registrars are benefited, viz., the sums received from parties applying in person for grants of probate or administration, and the fees taken for acting as agents for professional persons in matters connected with the business of the registries. From separate returns of these emoluments, which have been made to this Board for the years 1858 and 1859, it appears that amounts, varying in the different registries from upwards of 1,000*l.* to less than 100*l.* per annum, have been received in those years in addition to the fees taken under the authorised tables.

The Judge of the Court of Probate has expressed an opinion, that when parties apply in person for grants, without the intervention of a professional or other agent, it should be the duty of the District Registrar to prepare the affidavits, and other necessary documents, as a part of the business of his office, for which he will be remunerated by salary; and his Lordship has further stated that he will be ready in communication with the Lord Chancellor to make an order, under the 30th section of the Act, imposing on the Registrars the obligation to prepare affidavits for suitors applying in person, and to direct the framing of a table of the fees to be taken for this additional duty.

My Lords entirely concur in the opinion expressed by Sir C. Cresswell, and they will communicate with him in order that these arrangements may be carried into effect from the date which shall be fixed by this Minute for the commencement of the salaries of the Registrars.

Although their Lordships are of opinion that it is not desirable that the District Registrars should derive any profit from acting as agents for professional men in matters connected in any way with the business of their registries, they do not now propose to interfere with this source of emolument; but in fixing the salaries to be henceforth received by District Registrars, their Lordships desire it should be fully understood, that if Parliament shall hereafter decide to restrict, or altogether prohibit, the business of the District Registrars in this respect, the Registrars shall have no claim to increase of salary or compensation for the profits of which they may be thereby deprived.

Having regard, then, to the extent of the business in the several district registries in the last three years, their Lordships are pleased to fix the salaries of the District Registrars at the sums specified in the first schedule to this Minute, and to provide that these salaries shall commence and take effect from 1st May next, from which date all fees received by those officers, under the tables duly authorised for the purpose, will, in conformity with the 23d section of the Act 23 & 24 Vict. c. 111, be collected and received by means of stamps.

An Estimate will be submitted to Parliament for the amount of the salaries.

These salaries are intended by their Lordships to remunerate the District Registrars for the whole of their services, including, as part of their official duties, the performance of the business of preparing affidavits, and other necessary documents, on personal applications.

Considering,

Considering, however, that this business has not heretofore been imposed upon the Registrars as an obligation, and that where it has been voluntarily undertaken by them they have derived additional income from it, of which advantage they will now be deprived, their Lordships are of opinion that an allowance may be exceptionally made to the present officers in addition to their salaries. To this allowance future District Registrars will have no claim, because they will succeed with a full knowledge of the salary which has been fixed for the office, and of the duties assigned to it.

Their Lordships, then, will be prepared to recommend to Parliament to allow to the present District Registrars, so long as they may hold their offices, the sums stated in the Schedule No. 2, attached to this Minute, and should Parliament approve thereof, the same will be paid to the present District Registrars in addition to their salaries.

Let a Warrant be prepared and addressed to the Board of Inland Revenue under the 23d section of the Act 23 & 24 Vict. c. 111, providing that all fees authorised to be taken by the District Registrars shall, from and after the 1st May next, be collected and received by means of stamps, in order that they may make arrangements for the issue of stamps to the District Registrars for this purpose, under such regulations as they may consider necessary.

PUBLIC EDUCATION,

GREAT BRITAIN,

(Exclusive of the Branch of Science and Art, to be voted separately).

AN ESTIMATE of the SUM required to be voted in the Year ending 31st March 1862, for Public Education in Great Britain.

BALANCES in the Exchequer on 31 December 1860:

Of the Vote for 1859–60	—
Ditto - 1860–1	315,000
	£. 315,000

Eight Hundred and Three Thousand Seven Hundred and Ninety-four Pounds.

MEMORANDUM.—The subdivisions of the Estimate point to a fundamental principle in the administration of this Vote. It has never been granted to meet the general expenses of Schools; but has always been appropriated to certain specific objects, so that the Schools which, in proportion to their size, obtain the largest share of aid, must, of necessity, be those in which the means requisite to secure efficiency have been the most amply provided; e. g., a substantial and convenient fabric, well-arranged furniture, a liberal supply of books, maps, and apparatus, a trained Teacher, well-conducted and intelligent Assistants, and regular attendance of Scholars, are among the principal characteristics of a good School, and may, singly or together, be the object of a Grant. The fulfilment of the conditions annexed to each Grant is ascertained by inspection. Each "Minute" constitutes a general offer, and it is impossible to know exactly beforehand how many persons may be willing to avail themselves of it.

The successive Minutes under which these Grants have been made are collected in the House of Commons Papers, No. 158, Session 1855, Nos. 191–2, Session 1858, and No. 141, Session 1860. The Minutes now in force are reduced to a code in House of Commons Paper, No. 252, Session 1860.

* For the months intervening between the end of School Years included in the last Estimate, and 31 March 1861, after which date these Schools will be aided and inspected by the Home Office. Provision is made in this Estimate for the months of current school years up to 31 March only, instead of for whole years, as must have been done had not provision been made after 31 March in the Estimate for Maintenance of Prisoners, &c., in Class iii. (See Article 18 in the Codified Minutes.)

† The Tenth Examiner is in the place of a clerk of the Council Office establishment heretofore employed in the Education Department.

‡ Increase for 1861–62 as compared with 1860–61, 5,627 l.

THE Account of Expenditure given in the following Notes, and in the Tables annexed to the Estimate, is for the year ending 31 December 1860. The Estimate is for the year ending 31 March 1862; but the following particulars and the Tables annexed to the Estimate, requiring some time to prepare, are continued from January to December in each year, and are not brought up to the March Quarter 1861. No sums appear as payments, except such as have been actually ordered to be issued within the year. As the greater part of the sum voted for education is paid in direct Annual Grants* for the maintenance of Elementary Schools, and as no Grant of this kind "is paid except on a Report from the Inspector, after a periodical visit, showing that the conditions of the Grant have been fulfilled" (Articles 16–18), some part of the payments due within each year always falls into the next. But it is impossible to estimate this quantity exactly beforehand, because the inspection of schools and decisions upon the Inspectors' Reports cannot be despatched at a perfectly uniform rate.

1. The Grants for building, enlarging, or improving the fabrics of Elementary Schools amounted to 117,103*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*; the sum voluntarily subscribed, to 208,058*l.* 12*s.* 11*d.*; the number of schools built, 229; enlarged or improved, 187; teachers' residences built, 203; the number of children for whom additional accommodation in school has been provided, 52,227. Of Training Colleges, two have been extended or improved: the sum granted for this purpose was 1,025*l.*; subscribed, 1,150*l.* The amount of outstanding liabilities for Building Grants awarded, but not yet claimed, is 119,354*l.* 5*s.* 7*d.*; a period of 18 months is allowed from the date of the award for claiming payment. The latter sum is exclusive of Grants to be awarded, and of which payment may be claimed, within the year 1861-62. By a Minute dated 21 January 1860, the rate of Grants for building, enlarging, or improving Elementary Schools has been reduced by three-eighths, and such Grants to Training Colleges have been discontinued. The two Grants to Training Colleges above mentioned, arose out of applications entertained before 21 January 1860.

2. The Grants paid during the past year in aiding 972 schools, towards the purchase of books, maps, and diagrams, amounted to 4,655*l.* 4*s.* 4*d.*; towards the purchase of scientific apparatus in 16 schools, 177*l.* 14*s.* 10*d.*; the sum subscribed from private sources was, for books, maps, and diagrams, 12,011*l.* 16*s.* 6*d.*; for scientific apparatus, 95*l.* 7*s.* 7*d.*; making a total expenditure from the Parliamentary Grant of 4,832*l.* 19*s.* 2*d.*

3. The total number of Pupil Teachers is 15,535; at the end of 1859 it was 15,224. The number of Pupil Teachers admitted in 1858 was 4,071; in 1859, 3,824; in 1860, 2,926. The check upon their increase, notwithstanding the constant increase in the number of schools aided, has been effected under the Minute of 4 May 1859, whereby it was resolved not to allow Pupil Teachers to be hereafter apprenticed at the expense of the Parliamentary Fund (a) in a greater proportion than one Pupil Teacher for every 40 Scholars in average attendance during the year preceding the date of inspection, nor (b) in a greater proportion than four Pupil Teachers to the same Master or Mistress. The Pupil Teacher's stipend begins at 10*l.*, and rises by 2*l.* 10*s.* per annum, to 20*l.* The schoolmaster or schoolmistress has the benefit of the Pupil Teacher's services in the school, and also receives a gratuity ranging from 3*l.* to 5*l.* for the special instruction of each Pupil Teacher, according to the number engaged. The period of service is for five years.

4. The capitation Grants, ranging from 3*s.* to 6*s.* per annum upon each child who has attended school for 176 days during the year preceding inspection, have been paid in schools throughout the rural districts and in the smaller unincorporated towns, since 1 January 1854, and, since 1 July 1856, have been extended to all parts (urban as well as rural), of England and Wales. The amount paid in 1859 was 61,183*l.* 0*s.* 1*d.* on 247,691 children, being 41·28 per cent. of the children attending 3,986 schools; in 1860 the amount paid was 63,897*l.* 7*s.* 11*d.* on 262,006 children, being 41·91 per cent. of the children attending 4,261 schools.

By the Minute of 26 July 1858, scholars above 12 years of age attending night schools on 50 nights per annum (such night schools being connected with day schools under inspection), may be reckoned for capitation grants. The amount of capitation paid in 1860 for 4,999, such scholars was 970*l.* 4*s.* 3*d.* The number of night scholars, and the amount of capitation paid for them are included in the number 262,006 and the sum 63,897*l.* 7*s.* 11*d.*

5. The number of certificated teachers in charge of schools is 7,711; at the end of 1859 it was 6,878. The augmentation Grants range from 10*l.* to 30*l.* per annum, according to the class of the teacher's certificate, the salary provided by the managers, the state of the school, and the sex of the teacher.

The certificate and augmentation of every teacher in a school under inspection is revised at intervals of five years, and is raised or lowered according to the character of the intermediate Reports.

6. The number of assistant teachers (retained, pursuant to the Minute of 23 July 1852, in schools under certificated masters or mistresses for three years after the end of their apprenticeship) is 295; at the end of 1859 it was also 295. These teachers receive 25*l.* if males, and 20*l.* if females, per annum, from the Committee of Council, and exhibitions are allowed to them if they enter any of the Training Colleges under inspection, at the end of their period of service. The great body of the Pupil Teachers prefer, and are able, to enter the Training College immediately on the completion of their apprenticeship.

By a Minute of 26 July 1858, this class of teachers is prospectively abolished; and their place is to be supplied by trained students, paid at the same rate, who have passed their examinations, but have not yet received certificates as teachers. These latter candidates may act either as principal teachers in small rural schools, or as assistants in large schools. The abolition of the old class of assistants cannot be completed, with due regard to existing interests, before the end of 1867.

By a Minute of 1 March 1855, annual payments of 5*l.* or 10*l.* are allowed to teachers acting in night schools only; such teachers received 1,635*l.* 15*s.* 3*d.* in the past year.

7. The total number of students in Training Colleges at the end of 1860 was 2,826. The training may extend to three years and may not be less than one year. At the end of each year all the students are examined before Her Majesty's Inspectors. A grant (varying from 13*l.* to 24*l.*) is allowed to the College for each student who passes the examination, according to his year, and according to the class in which he is placed. Two-thirds of these sums are allowed for female students. The number of students who passed successfully in the year 1860 was 2,612. In 1859 it was 2,506.

The Queen's Scholarships are Exhibitions or Bursaries, tenable for two years, which pupil teachers who have completed their apprenticeship, and certain other qualified candidates, may obtain by competitive examination, and which are of sufficient amount to enable the holder to meet the demands made for residence and tuition in the Training Colleges. In the year 1860, 1,565 were admitted for the first time, and 1,010 continued for a second year; total 2,575.

The Lecturers are officers of the Training College, who pass an examination in the particular subject upon which they are to lecture, and receive 100*l.* per annum from the Committee of Council, on condition that the managers of the Training College provide 150*l.*, and that the Inspector reports well of their practical powers in teaching at his annual visits to the Training College. The number of Lecturers hitherto passed is 30, and more candidates are coming forward.

8. These Grants for the general support of Training Colleges were awarded to certain Education Societies in the earlier years of the Committee's administration, and have been since continued, but without increase or extension to other societies; the Minutes of 1846 having introduced a system of appropriated Grants.

9. The pensioners must have served 15 years in school, and their schools must have been, during seven of those years, under inspection. Age or infirmity is a condition of every pension (30*l.* per annum being the maximum for an elementary teacher), and the pension may be withdrawn on proof of misconduct, or of sufficient means of livelihood from other sources. These pensions are not offered as a general provision for teachers, but as a form of aid to a limited number of schools, in order to facilitate the appointment of competent successors in the place of meritorious but disabled teachers. The number of pensioners at present is 31, and 10 have received gratuities (not to be renewed) on retirement. The maximum annual charge under this head is never to exceed 6,000*l.* per annum.

10. Grants for industrial purposes are made to common Elementary Schools; and 131 such schools, under Government inspection, have industrial departments (land, kitchens, laundries, or work-rooms) attached to them. The grants equal half the rent of any premises specially hired for the purpose; one-third of the cost of tools or raw materials for labour, and and an allowance of 5*s.* or 2*s.* 6*d.* per industrial scholar, according as the managers employ special instructors, or only the ordinary schoolmaster or schoolmistress, in the industrial department. The total sum paid on account of such departments in 1860 was 1,764 l. 19 s. 4 d.

Besides the industrial departments annexed to common Elementary Schools, other schools in which labour forms a principal feature of the institution may receive grants. Schools of this latter class are establishments for the reception of vagrants or other children of disreputable character. They receive the same grants as are made to the industrial departments of common schools, and also certain further grants, such as the ordinary rate for the purchase of books, maps, and diagrams, and the ordinary rate in augmentation of any certificated teacher's salary (special certificates being also granted for teachers in such schools). Some of these establishments (not all) have been certified under the Acts 17 & 18 Vict. c. 74, and 20 & 21 Vict. c. 48. In the Certified Schools, the sum of 6 d. per day, up to a maximum sum of 7 l. 10 s. per annum, has been allowed from the Education Grant for every child received under magisterial sentence and liable to compulsory detention. The total number of schools aided in 1860 was 72, and of these 32 were certified. The total sum paid from the Vote for Education was 7,932 l. 11 s. 11 d., of which the Certified Schools received 5,610 l. 12 s. 3 d. The total number of children in these schools was 6,172, of whom 2,617 were in Certified, and 3,555 in Uncertified Schools. The number detained under magisterial sentence was 242.

Certified Industrial Schools will henceforth appear in the Estimate for Maintenance of Prisoners, &c., in Class iii., pursuant to Act 23 & 24 Vict. c. 108.

11. The organisation of the establishment is founded (with certain modifications, approved by the Lords of the Treasury) upon the Report of the Committees of Inquiry on Public Offices, presented (1854) to both Houses of Parliament, pp. 230–243.

The total number of Elementary Day-schools visited by Her Majesty's Inspectors during 1860 was 7,272, and School-rooms under separate Teachers, 10,403. They found present, 962,932 children; the number found present in 1859 was 880,131. If 27,728 children inspected in 426 Poor Law Schools, and 6,172 children inspected in 72 Industrial Schools, be added, the total number of Schools inspected in 1860 was 10,901, and children, 996,832.

The cost has been approximately estimated by Captain Fowke at 27,000 l." "Your Committee recommend these works as matters of extreme urgency—the completion and covering in of the Quadrangular Court, as a means of rescuing much valuable public and private property from a receptacle quite unfit for it; the removal of the wooden schools and the dilapidated houses, from considerations of safety, and therefore real economy."

EXPLANATIONS relating to the ESTIMATE of the COMMISSIONERS of NATIONAL EDUCATION, IRELAND, for the Year ending 31st March 1862.

Female Teachers—Training Department.

Note 1.—THE increase under this head is required for the maintenance, &c. of an additional number of Teachers, for whom increased accommodation has been provided as intimated in note (A.), Estimate 1860–1.

Central Model Schools.

Note 2.—This sum is required in addition to a sum of 1,000 l., voted in Estimate, year 1858-9, towards the salaries of Teachers in seven additional schools about to be opened at the central establishment, and referred to in note (A.), explanatory of the above Estimate.

Dublin West Model School.

Note 3.—It has been found necessary from time to time to increase the number of Pupil Teachers and paid Monitors in this School, and this sum is estimated for salaries.

Navigation Schools.

Note 4A.—The sum of 600 l. is required for the payment of Teachers' salaries, and purchase of instruments for a Maritime School about being established in Dublin, for the training of Teachers of Navigation throughout Ireland, and for giving instruction to sailors and others.

Note 4B.—This sum was taken in Estimate 1860–1, under the head of District Model Schools, from which it is now transferred.

District Model Schools.

Note 5.—The additional sum estimated under the above head will be required consequent on the opening of the Newtownards and Sligo Schools.

Minor Model Schools.

Note 6.—The total sum estimated for this service will be required towards the salaries and working expenses of the following Schools, viz., Omagh, Parsonstown, Carrickfergus, Newtown Stewart, and Monaghan.

Salaries of Teachers of National Schools.

Note 7.—This includes a sum of 12,000 l. towards payment of salaries of Principal and Assistant Teachers of National Schools, taken into connexion during the year 1860–1, to meet the increases to salaries of Teachers consequent on classification, and to provide for the improved scale of salaries at present in operation.

Note 8.—This sum is required to pay the salaries of Teachers of new Schools to be taken into connexion during the year 1861–2, and to provide for the increases to salaries consequent on classification during that year.

Note 9.—The general opinion of Inspectors, Managers, and Teachers, is so strongly in favour of the extension of the system of paid Monitorships, as affording a safe inducement to clever and deserving children to remain under instruction for a longer period than their circumstances might otherwise enable them; as conducing to the efficiency of the Schools in which such children are employed as Monitors; and as tending to the production of a superior class of Teachers; that the Commissioners have resolved, if Parliament vote the amount required, to increase the number of both classes of Monitors, from 1,900 Senior, and 600 Junior, the number engaged in 1860–1, to 2,400 Senior and 1,100 Junior, the number to be employed in 1861–2. This addition to the number of Monitors will involve an increase to our grant of from 10,000 l., the sum voted for 1860–1, to 15,000 l., the amount required for 1861–2.

Book Department.

Note 10.—The amount heretofore estimated for this service is now increased by 3,000 l., consequent on the growing demand for grants of Books and School Requisites to be sold at reduced prices, and for the large number of Free Stock Grants necessary to be awarded periodically to National Schools in connexion with the Board.

Miscellaneous.

Note 11.—The diminution in amount as compared with 1860–1, for Printing and Binding, is caused by having to provide for one year's supply only, instead of two years, as per note (H.), Estimate 1860–1.

Royal Irish Academy.

During the Session 1859-60, the Royal Irish Academy held the usual number of meetings (14), which were attended by 579 members, and 171 visitors introduced by members.

The Library and Museum Departments were kept open for the use of the members and parties introduced by them, and all respectable-looking people without introduction applying for admission. The alterations and changes in the Museum Department consequent on the new arrangements and Catalogue rendered the admission of visitors a matter of considerable care, as they had to be kept under constant inspection.

In the Library Department few Books were purchased, though many valuable additions of printed books, chiefly of a scientific character, were made to it by donation, or in exchange for the publications of the Academy.

The Museum Department has been extended by purchases to the amount of 58 l., and by undry donations.

The printing and distribution of the Proceedings and Transactions of the Academy, and also of the Catalogue of Antiquities, were proceeded with as usual, but the actual sum expended was under the average.

The private income of the Academy from subscriptions, sales, &c., for the year 1859-60, as per last account audited to 31st March last, amounted to 725 l. 15 s. 2 d., and the expenditure to 1,028 l. 7 s. 11 d., the difference being covered by the Parliamentary grant.

24 November 1860.

Edward Clibborn,
Assistant Secretary, R. I. A.

REPORT.

National Gallery,
10 January 1861.

My Lords,

The Estimates for the year ending 31st March 1862 having been required earlier than usual, the Report on the National Gallery which I have now the honour to submit, extends only to the 31st December 1860. It is therefore to be remarked, that the balance which appears in the account of expenditure for pictures may not represent the balance at the close of the financial year. Some important pending negotiations may reduce, or even absorb, that balance before the 31st March next.

On the other hand, as it has hitherto been found convenient to prepare returns relating to ordinary statistics for the year ending 31st December, the Report will in those respects be as complete as usual.

The present list of Trustees, in the order of their nomination, is as follows:—

The Marquis of Lansdowne.	The Lord Ashburton.
The Duke of Sutherland.	William Russell, Esq.
The Lord Monteagle.	Thomas Baring, Esq.
Sir James Graham.	The Marquis of Northampton.
The Lord Overstone.

Sir Charles Lock Eastlake was reappointed Director from the 1st July 1860, by Treasury Warrant dated the 29th June 1860.

The subjects of the present Report are classed as follows:—

1. Pictures purchased since the 31st March 1860.
2. Former purchases.
3. Alteration of a portion of the building in Trafalgar-square.
4. Bequests and donations.
5. Details relating to the Gallery and Establishment.

I.—Pictures purchased since the 31st March 1860.

The number of purchases from the 31st March to the 31st of December 1860 being three only, the details respecting them, instead of being separately given, as usual, in an appendix, are included in the following statements:—

The three purchases are:—a predella, consisting of five pictures, by Fra Giovanni, called Angelico da Fiesole; an altarpiece by Benvenuto Garofalo; and a picture by Roger van der Weyden, the elder.

1. The predella by Fra Angelico, once forming part of an altarpiece which is still in the church of S. Domenico at Fiesole, represents in the centre compartment, Christ surrounded by Angels; in the compartment on the left (of the spectator), the Madonna, Apostles, Anchorites, and Fathers of the Church; in the compartment on the right, Patriarchs, and Prophets; with Saints and Martyrs of both sexes; in the smaller compartments at each end, Monks and Sisters of the Order of St. Dominic. The three larger compartments measure each 2 ft. 4½ in. wide; the two smaller, 9 in. wide; the height of the five being 1 ft. 1 in. Painted in tempera on wood.

These pictures, sold by the monks of the convent before 1820 to Sig. Valentini, Prussian Consul in Rome, were by him made an heir-loom. The subsequent proprietor, his nephew, Sig. Gioacchino Valentini, after long negotiations with the agents of the British Government, obtained a decree from the Pope removing the legal restriction.

The five pictures were purchased for the National Gallery, in October last, for the sum of 3,500 l. The additional and incidental expenses, in consequence of the demands of the Roman Government before allowing the exportation, were unusually great. Those demands, ostensibly founded on the excellence and celebrity of the works, were admitted to be also partly suggested by the state of the Papal finances. The British Consul finally paid 700 l. for the permission of exportation.

The pictures are safely arrived in England. Among their recommendations these specimens have long had the reputation of being among the very few examples of the master which, after the vicissitudes of more than four centuries, have remained in almost perfect preservation. Their state, as compared with that of the altarpiece to which they belonged (which in 1501 was repaired by Lorenzo di Credi),* is noticed by Vasari. The enthusiastic expressions of that writer, with regard to their higher merits, may be here compared with the calmer but not less conclusive judgment of a modern critic:

"The infinite small figures," says the Italian biographer, "which are seen in a celestial glory, are so beautiful that they seem to be truly (beings) of paradise; nor can the spectator, who draws near, satiate himself with contemplating them."†

The author of the "Italian Researches" says: "To know and estimate all the purity of his (Fra Angelico's) feeling, and all the delicacy of his execution, it is necessary to see some of his smaller tempera paintings in a perfect state of preservation. The evidence of that state consists in a certain moderate gloss, arising from the hardening of the tempera medium, which, in untouched pictures executed in that method, imparts to the whole surface a clear and inimitable kind of enamel. In cases where, either from inconsiderateness, or in order to remove previous repaintings, cleaning has been resorted to, that enamelled surface has, notwithstanding the greatest care, been more or less injured. In others, where a varnish has been applied, the quality referred to, though it may still exist underneath, is no longer appreciable,—as in some small works by the master in the Gallery of the Uffizj, and in a Last Judgment in the Gallery of the Academy, in Florence. Still more injured, and not unfrequently even down to the substratum, are the paintings, in the same Academy, removed from the Church de' Servi (SS. Annunziata), and also, more especially, a large altarpiece.

On the other hand, the gradino now in the sacristy of the Dominicans at Cortona, and the predella formerly belonging to the altarpiece in the church of S. Domenico at Fiesole—specimens which I have repeatedly contemplated, and always with new admiration—still preserved their original enamelled surface. With regard to the last-mentioned, containing innumerable figures of the Blessed, Vasari says," &c.‡

It is not to be supposed that, in a composition of more than 250 figures, every detail could be executed with equal feeling or with unvarying skill. Such inequalities, observable in Fra Angelico's finest works, indicate his predilections as well as his powers and deficiencies.

2. An Altarpiece, by Benvenuto Garofalo, representing the Madonna with the Child, enthroned under a rich canopy. On the right (of the spectator) stand St. Francis and St. Anthony; on the left, S. Guglielmo, in armour, and Santa Chiara: the architectural background represents the interior of a semicircular building. Measure, 7 feet 11 inches high, 6 feet 10½ inches wide; painted on wood. Not yet arrived in England.

This picture, originally the principal altarpiece in the Church of S. Guglielmo, at Ferrara, is mentioned in terms of eulogy by numerous writers on the history and topography of that city.§

In 1832 the Church and Convent of S. Guglielmo were converted to military uses, and the picture in question was removed, first to the cathedral and thence to the residence of the Archbishop. It was afterwards sold to Conte Antonio Mazza, from whom it was purchased for the National Gallery, in November last, for the sum of 763 l. 16 s.

In addition to the older authorities referred to, writers are not wanting who have described

* Marchese, Memorie de' più insigni Pittori, &c. Domenicani. Seconda edizione, vol. i. p. 229.

† Vasari, Vita di Frate Giovanni da Fiesole (ed. Le Monnier), vol. iv. p. 29. The copies now substituted in the church are by the late painter Michele, and are merely mentioned in a note to the above passage as being "most unskilful."

‡ C. F. von Rumohr, Italienische Forschungen, Zweyter Theil, 1827, pp. 253, 254. In a note, p. 254, respecting the last-named works, the writer says: "These pictures were sold in my time by the monks of the convent; they are now (1827) in Rome, in the residence of the Prussian Consul Valentini."

§ Guarini, Compendio storico delle Chiese di Ferrara, 4to. Ferrara, 1621, lib. iv. p. 218. The works that follow were also all printed at Ferrara.

Cittadella, Catalogo istorico de' Pittori e Scultori Ferraresi, 8vo. 1783, tom. ii. p. 26. According to this writer the church and convent were appropriated to Franciscan nuns; hence probably the selection of the principal Saints represented in the picture.

described this work since it quitted the Church. Boschini, in the notes to Baruffaldi, referring to various pictures by Garofalo, mentions it as follows: "In the archiepiscopal palace, and provisionally placed there (is to be seen) the fine and perfectly preserved picture which was at the principal altar of S. Guglielmo, &c."* Finally, Laderchi, writing after it had become the property of its late owner, thus notices it among the examples of the master: "The Count Antonio Mazza has the magnificent picture which was at the high altar of the suppressed Church of S. Guglielmo, representing, &c."†

An indifferent engraving from this altarpiece is by "G. Domenichini." A copy from it, now in the Church of S. Giuseppe a' Cappuccini, in Bologna, at the first altar on the right, was painted, while the original was in the Palace of the Archbishop at Ferrara, by Alessandro Candi, a Ferrareso artist still living.

3. A picture by Roger van der Weyden, the elder, representing the Entombment; the composition consisting of eight figures; measure, 2 feet 10¼ inches high, 2 feet 4 inches wide. Painted in tempera, on the compact linen known in Italy by the name of renso. Purchased in Milan, in November last, from the representatives of the Guicciardi family, for the sum of 120 l. 14 s. 6 d. Not yet arrived in England.

Facius, a writer of the fifteenth century, in his short notices of nearly 100 worthies of his own or the immediately preceding time, includes four painters; one of the number being Roger van der Weyden, whom he calls Rogerius Gallicus.‡ This master was in Rome in 1450, and appears to have left specimens of his works in various parts of Italy. The above-named contemporary writer, in referring to them, mentions a series relating to the Passion of Christ, painted on linen ("nobiles in linteis picturæ"), which were in the possession of Alphonso, King of Naples. The example above described, whether connected with that series or not, may give an idea of the technical method adopted in works of the kind; while, in more important respects, it is worthy of the reputation of this principal scholar of John van Eyck.

Of the above pictures, the Garofalo and the Roger van der Weyden were purchased by the Director during a journey on the Continent, undertaken in the last autumn, with the approval of the Trustees and of the Treasury (Treasury Letter, 8th August 1860). The predella by Fra Angelico was first inspected in 1858, and from that time had been the subject of negotiation.

The statement of account relating to the purchase of pictures, from the 1st April to the 31st December 1860, will be found in the Appendix (No. 5).

II.—Former Purchases.

Of pictures previously purchased for the National Collection, one only is mentioned in the last Report, p. 36, as not having arrived in England. That specimen was a nearly semicircular picture (commonly called a lunette), originally forming the upper part of an altarpiece by Ambrogio Borgognone, already in the Gallery, No. 298.

The lunette referred to was lost at sea in November last; the steamer "Black Prince," which conveyed it, having foundered in consequence of collision with another vessel.

The price of the lunette, included in that of the altarpiece—430 l., which formed part of the expenditure in 1857—was estimated at about 100 l., to which was to be added the cost of repairs for the frame and picture, with expenses of carriage, &c., rendering it expedient to insure the picture for 150 l. That sum was paid by the Indemnity Mutual Marine Insurance Company in December last, and, less the agent's fee (1 per cent.) for recovering the amount, was, by direction of the Treasury, paid into the Exchequer.

Of 46 pictures forming the Beaucousin Collection, purchased shortly before the date of the last Report, 35 were selected for the National Collection, nearly all of which were placed in the Gallery and numbered before the 31st March last. Five only, below mentioned, were placed shortly after that date.

The numbers preceding the painters' names correspond with the numbers of the Beaucousin pictures in the last Report.

1. Gregorio Schiavone.—An Altarpiece, described in the last Report, p. 41. Placed in the Gallery in April 1860; numbered 630.

7. Titian.—A Portrait, described in the last Report, p. 42. Placed in the Gallery in April 1860; numbered 636.

11. Francesco Francia.—"The Madonna and Child," described in the last Report, p. 42. Placed in the Gallery in April 1860; numbered 638.

34. 35.—Jacob Cornelissen.—Portraits, described in the last Report, p. 43. Included in one frame, and placed in the Gallery in April 1860; numbered 657.

‡ The work referred to was written in 1456, but was not printed till the last century, under the title, Bartholomæus Facius de Viris Illustribus Liber . . . Recensuit, &c. Laurentius Mehus. Florentiæ, MDCCXLV. The account of "Rogerius Gallicus" will be found in p. 48.

Of the eleven remaining pictures, not required, in the judgment of the Trustees, for the National Collection, one was, with the sanction of the Treasury, and under certain conditions, selected, by authorised agents, for the National Gallery of Edinburgh, and six for the National Gallery of Dublin.

The numbers in the annexed list correspond, as before, with those of the Beaucousin pictures in the last Report (pp. 42, 43).

45. Hans Memling.—Portion of an altarpiece.
46. Ditto. —The companion picture.

III.—Alteration of a portion of the Building in Trafalgar Square.

The Government having resolved to add to the rooms appropriated to the National Gallery by making use of the space occupied by the halls in the centre of the building, and a vote of Parliament having been taken for the alteration, a communication on the subject, dated the 28th August last, from the Office of Works, was addressed to the Keeper and Secretary for the information of the Trustees. After various consultations with the architect, Mr. Pennethorne, on details connected with the intended plan, the internal preparations were made without delay.

The work of alteration was begun in September last, and has proceeded almost uninterruptedly. Before placing pictures in a newly built room it will be expedient that proper authorities should be consulted as to the safety of such a proceeding. It is believed, however, that from the nature of the cement used, the walls will require but a short time to dry; it is therefore hoped that the Gallery may be re-opened within the month of May next.

The principal changes will be the enlargement of the small north room by including in it the passage originally leading to the first of the three large rooms. The dimensions of the north room so enlarged will be 35 feet in length, 31 in width, and 30 feet 6 inches in height. The new east gallery, to be connected with the north room by a small vestibule, will be 75 feet in length, 31 in width, and 33 in height.

In order to gain these advantages the entrance-hall will be considerably reduced, and the staircase will lead to the small south room.

On the re-opening of the gallery, when the last named room, as well as the east and north rooms, will be either new or newly papered and cleaned, the walls of the remaining rooms, if left in their present state, would present an unsatisfactory contrast with the freshness of those apartments.

The three older rooms referred to comprehend the only space at present available in which the pictures, previously occupying five rooms and their approaches, can be deposited while the alterations in the building are in progress; but although it may be difficult to crowd the pictures into still narrower limits, so as to clean the ceilings and re-paper the walls of the present rooms in succession, an endeavour will be made to accomplish this object, and should it be ultimately found to be impracticable, the operations will be carried into effect in the next autumn vacation.

It is proposed in re-papering the walls to try the effect of different colours in different rooms, including some of the colours employed in foreign picture galleries. Such experiments may not be without their use, either in leading to the preference of a tint, or in suggesting further modifications, so that when the time shall come for deciding on the colour of the walls for an extensive gallery, some approach to an agreement of opinion may, by such previous trials, be arrived at.

IV.—Bequests and Donations.

Bequests.

A picture representing "Neapolitan Peasants at a Fountain," by Perry Williams. Bequeathed to the nation by the late Mrs. William Huskisson. Painted in oil, on canvas; measure, 3 ft. 5 in. high, 4 ft. 1½ in. wide. Placed in the Gallery at South Kensington in October 1860; numbered 662.

Among

Among the pictures forming part of the Bell bequest, that called "The Defeat of Comus," by Sir Edwin Landseer, R.A., and mentioned in the last Report, p. 37, as being in the hands of the artist, has been delivered by him to the Trustees. Painted in oil, on canvas; measure, 2 ft. 10 in. high, 5 ft. 6 in. wide. Placed in the Gallery at South Kensington in October 1860; numbered 605.

A picture representing "The Sacking of Basing House," by Charles Landseer, R.A., which the late Jacob Bell had commissioned him to paint, with a view to its being placed among the pictures of the British School forming part of the National Gallery, though not mentioned in the will, has been delivered by the executors, in conformity with the late Jacob Bell's known wishes, to the Trustees of the National Gallery. Painted in oil, on canvas; measure, 3 ft. 3½ in. high, 4 ft. 1½ in. wide. Placed in the Gallery at South Kensington in June 1860; numbered 612.

Donations.

A Tracing by Jacob Schlesinger, from the "Madonna di San Sisto," by Raphael. Presented to the nation by Messrs. Paul & Domenic Colnaghi, Scott & Co. Mounted on thick paper attached to canvas; measure, 8 ft. 5 in. high, 6 ft. 7 in. wide. Placed in the hall of the National Gallery in Trafalgar-square in April 1860; numbered 661. Removed during the alterations.

A Silhouette portrait of J. M. W. Turner, R.A., presented by James Lahee, Esq., and mentioned in the last Report, p. 38, was placed in the Gallery at South Kensington in June 1860.

V.—Details relating to the Gallery and Establishment.

Pictures protected with Glass.

During the year ending 31st December 1860, 11 pictures have been protected with glass, and two were so protected when received, making in all 13. Appendix (No. 1).

Pictures repaired and varnished.

Two pictures by W. Hilton, R.A., in the Gallery at South Kensington, No. 333, representing "Edith and the Monks discovering the dead body of Harold," and No. 178, representing "Serena rescued by Sir Calepine," having been repaired, were varnished in May 1860.

The picture representing "Dido building Carthage," by J. M. W. Turner, R.A., No. 498, in the Gallery, Trafalgar-square, having been re-lined under the direction of Mr. John Bentley, was varnished in December 1860.

No other pictures, previously in the Gallery, were varnished during the year ending 31st December 1860.

Backs of the Pictures.

The pictures in the National Collection, whether in Trafalgar-square or at South Kensington, are protected at the back with prepared canvas. All newly-acquired pictures are protected in like manner. In cases where any temporary dampness in walls might be apprehended, this preservative would be especially important.

Copying in the National Gallery.

Returns, showing the number of students and others who have been occupied in copying from the national pictures, and showing what pictures are chiefly copied, will be found in the Appendix (No. 2). With a view to protect living artists from the possible injury they may sustain by the dissemination of copies from their works, the Trustees have resolved that, in future, no picture in the National Collection by a living artist shall be allowed to be copied without his consent.

Number of Visitors to the National Gallery.

Returns, showing the number of visitors in different months, are inserted in the Appendix (No. 3).

Catalogues.

A return of the number of Catalogues sold during the year 1860 will also be found in the Appendix (No. 4).

Details relating to the Establishment.

Martha Hirst, principal housemaid, Trafalgar-square, died on the 20th June 1860: Catherine Ackerman has been appointed to act in her place, at a reduced salary of 40 l. per annum. (Treasury Letter, 27th September 1860.)

Elizabeth Slade, assistant housemaid, South Kensington, died on the 2d June 1860. It has not been found necessary to appoint another in her place—one assistant housemaid being sufficient at South Kensington.

The general account relating to the establishment is, by direction of the Treasury, submitted by the keeper and secretary monthly and yearly to the Commissioners of Audit.

REPORT of the Governors and Guardians of the LYING-IN HOSPITAL, DUBLIN.

THE Lying-in Hospital was founded by the late Dr. Bartholomew Mosse, in 1756, and obtained a Charter of Incorporation.

Since its foundation it has afforded relief, on an average, to 2,000, annually, of the most destitute poor women of this city and neighbourhood, and occasionally from the provinces; the class of persons relieved are the wives of poor artisans, distressed citizens, soldiers, sailors, labourers, and others; many of whom, although able to support themselves and families by their daily labour, are yet totally destitute of the necessary accommodation, medicines, attendance, and comforts required in their confinement, and which this hospital so amply affords to them in their time of need. Every distressed and helpless woman who presents herself, and is properly recommended as an object of relief, is at once received into this hospital, and watched over by the medical attendants until discharged in a fit state to return to her home and resume the duties of her family.

There are 134 beds in the hospital, 12 of which are exclusively appropriated to the diseases of females.

The income of this hospital is derived from the following sources: Parliamentary grant, interest on funded property, rents of houses, subscriptions and donations, profits arising from the Rotunda Rooms and Gardens (which are let for public entertainments, meetings, &c.). The certain yearly income is only 750 l., and the casual income about 1,116 l., as averaged for the last three years.

In the year 1790 the Governors were authorised by Act of 29th & 30th Geo. III., to borrow 11,000 l. (Irish) on Debentures, at 4 per cent., in order to complete the building of the Rotunda Rooms; the interest of which, amounting to 406 l. 1 s. 3 d. (British) per annum, they have ever since paid out of the annual grant received from Parliament, having no other fund from which they could by possibility defray this demand.

The Governors use every effort to keep the expenses of the establishment at the lowest point consistent with its efficiency, and with this view have recently, from time to time, made such reductions as they conceived could be effected without injury to its usefulness.

Signed by order,
J. G. Strickland,
Secy & Regr.

To the Honourable the Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of the Governors and Guardians of the Hospital for the Relief of Poor Lying-in Women in the City of Dublin.

Humbly showeth,

THAT the institution of which your petitioners are the Governors and Guardians has been established by Charter for many years, for the relief of poor lying-in women in the city of Dublin.

That said institution is, in a great measure, supported by the bounty of your Honourable House.

Petitioners therefore humbly implore this Honourable House to grant such sum for the support of the Lying-in Hospital for one year, as to them in their wisdom shall seem meet.

And petitioners will pray.

Henry Pakenham, Chairman.

Basil W. Anderson, Registrar, &c.

To the Right Honourable and Honourable the Knights, Burgesses and Citizens of Great Britain and Ireland, in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of the Governors of the Coombe Lying-in Hospital, in the City of Dublin.

Humbly showeth,

That your petitioners are the managers of the Coombe Lying-in Hospital, which was founded in the city of Dublin, in the year 1826, for the relief of poor lying-in women resident in the Earl of Meath's Liberties and surrounding neighbourhood, which is the largest and poorest district in the Irish metropolis.

That this hospital has been supported during the last 34 years by voluntary subscriptions, by the proceeds of a few small legacies, and by a presentment annually made by the Town Council of Dublin, equal in amount to the sums contributed from private sources.

That the resources of the institution have always proved insufficient to meet the demands upon it for relief; that consequently your petitioners have been most unwillingly compelled to limit the number of admissions somewhat in proportion to the annual amount at their disposal; but that they have occasionally felt themselves constrained, during periods of great public distress, to extend the number of admissions, and have thus been sometimes burdened with heavy debt, which they have subsequently found most difficult to liquidate.

That the Commissioners recently appointed to inspect the Dublin Hospitals, and to inquire into their condition, have reported most favourably of this hospital, and have recommended that a Parliamentary Grant be annually made towards its maintenance.

That an estimate of the probable expenditure of the Hospital for the year ending 31 March 1862, together with a return of the number of patients attended in connexion with the institution, for the twelve months last past, have been forwarded to your Honourable House, along with this Petition.

Your Petitioners therefore humbly pray your Honourable House to take into your favourable consideration the foregoing facts, and to make them a grant towards the maintenance of this important branch of the Medical School of Dublin, for the year ending 31 March 1862; and your petitioners will ever pray.

On behalf of the Governors,

Redmond Carroll, Lord Mayor of the City of Dublin.
Richard Atkinson, Alderman, Lord Mayor Elect.
And 6 others.

Joseph Mullen, Assistant Secretary.

EXTRACT from THIRTEENTH REPORT of ST. MARK'S OPHTHALMIC HOSPITAL and DISPENSARY for DISEASES of the EYE and EAR, Lincoln-place, Dublin, 1858–59.

IN compliance with the regulations made by the Corporation of Dublin, the "Hospital Year" for those institutions which receive grants of public money from that body ends during the latter part of the month of September, at a time when it is difficult to collect annual subscriptions. The Board of Governors of St. Mark's Ophthalmic Hospital have, therefore, been unable heretofore to present the yearly Report until the ensuing spring. They have, however, at length succeeded in balancing the account and presenting the Report during the current year.

The progressive usefulness of the hospital may be learned from the fact, that during the past year a greater number of persons, remaining on an average a greater length of time, received the benefits of the institution as in-door patients than for any similar period since its foundation. From 1st October 1858 to the 30th September 1859, there were 188 persons—116 males and 72 females—treated in the wards of the institution, and the average number of days spent in hospital by each patient was 30; the days of admission and dismissal missal counting as one; and the time spent by those remaining in hospital after the 30th September 1858, and the days up to the 30th September 1859, of those who remained in hospital after that date being included in this calculation.

The absolute cost for food per day for each patient—irrespective of house rent, attendance, fire and lighting, washing, and medical appliances, has been 5½*d.* As the out-door patients partake of the advantages of some of these latter items in the general expenditure, it would be unfair to include them in the cost of the support of the in-door patients.

The following table shows the localities from whence patients treated in St. Mark's Hospital were received during the year ending 30th September 1859 :—

From which it will be seen that the greatest number of patients received from country districts were from the counties of Tipperary, Galway, Wicklow, Roscommon, and Kildare, localities from which but few subscriptions have been received. The Governors earnestly appeal to the humane to contribute towards the support and relief of those from their counties who have been admitted to the wards of this institution. They would also especially request benevolent persons wishing to procure admission or advice for patients to inquire into their pecuniary circumstances, and to recommend such only as are really fit objects of charity, and who would be admissible to the public charities in their own localities; also to have such patients examined by medical men in their vicinity, and to obtain opinions as to the nature of the disease, and whether the patient is likely to be benefited by treatment. They furthermore desire that inquiry, in the first instance, be made of the officers of the institution respecting the possibility of admission of persons sent from a distance. It is also requisite that means should be provided by those who send them in, for the removal of pauper patients from hospital when necessary. These suggestions are thrown out to save charitably disposed individuals both trouble and expense.

Of 192 operations performed during the past year, 65 were for cataract, and 22 for artificial pupil—the remaining 105 were the usual operations performed at ophthalmic institutions. As many as 132 persons were cupped during the year, by which a great saving in the cost of leeching was effected, as well as a more effectual means of checking inflammatory action employed.

In the Dispensary and external clinique 2,132 new patients attended and received medicine and advice, or had minor operations performed on them, being an increase of 92 over last year; and 145 got renewal tickets from month to month. It would not be possible to state with any degree of truthfulness how many patients at a public dispensary remained on the books on a particular day; and therefore it is impossible to carry over the balance of attendance from one year to another, as may be done with the in-door patients. Of the foregoing dispensary patients, as many as 1,752 persons—939 males, and 813 females—laboured under diseases of the eye; and 380 persons, of whom 231 were males, and 149 females, suffered from affections of the ear.

The disease, age, and sex of each patient—and in case of ocular affections, the colour of the eye, has been carefully registered, as heretofore. The statistics of this institution, as already stated in several of the previous Reports, are compiled upon a different principle from that employed in most other medical charities, the annual returns from which do not give the exact number of cases or individuals prescribed for during the year, but the number of attendances from day to day summed up at the end of the year, as if such represented so many cases. In the registry of St. Mark's Hospital, the number of new cases alone is set down, and the average attendance of each person, one patient with another, might be stated as about six times. We make these statements, because we think they may be generally useful in the registration employed by other institutions, general as well as special.

The classification of disease adopted in the first Report published, nearly 15 years ago, has been with slight abbreviation adhered to, as independently of its very general acceptation by nosological statisticians, the continuation of the same formulæ and mode of registry will, when the different years are summed together, benefit that science which it is one of the objects of St. Mark's Hospital, as an educational establishment, to advance.

The question of medical education to which we adverted in our last Report is still under the consideration of the Medical Council, and as the subject of a permanent provision for the blind, as set forth in Mr. Wilde's memorial to the Earl of Eglinton, will shortly come under the consideration of a Parliamentary Committee, we refrain from alluding to these subjects in the present Report.

The system of partial payments adopted at this institution 17 years ago, so as to render the dispensary department partly self-supporting, and thus relieve the charity and encourage a spirit of honourable independence among the people, as well as to conduce to habits of order and regularity, still continues to work well. While the pauper is never denied the benefits of the dispensary, those who are able to afford a trifle cheerfully pay the 6 d. a month required by our rules. The objection to this system consists in persons in good circumstances availing themselves of it, and thus defrauding the charity, by occupying the time and consuming the medicine intended for the pauper, the labourer, or the artisan, as well as doing injury to the general practitioner or the vendor of medicines.

The income of the hospital during the past year has been 573 l. 14 s. 2 d., including the balance of 161 l. 11 s. 1 d., remaining over from the year 1858. The subscriptions and donations amount to 116 l., and the sum derived from dispensary and hospital patients has been 57 l. 19 s.; all the other sources of income, except the interest on the reserved fund and bank deposits for short periods of the year are fixed. The expenditure has been 414 l. 15 s. 3 d., and 100 l. has been added to the reserve fund for building purposes and repairs, to meet the increasing demand upon the accommodation of the institution. The sum of 44 l. 17 s. has been expended upon the out-building, heretofore used as a straw-house.

The Board of Charitable Donations and Bequests have directed that in future the interest of the money lodged in their hands to the credit of this institution, be paid directly to the treasurer, instead of, as heretofore, through a third party.

The Board of Superintendence of Dublin Hospitals held a meeting in the board-room, and inspected the premises on the 24th June last, and expressed themselves satisfied with the management, order, cleanliness, and economy of the hospital.

The dispensary is open on the mornings of Tuesdays and Fridays from 10 until 12. Operations are performed at 11 o'clock on Wednesdays. Accidents are attended to at all times.

LIGHTS, BUOYS, and BEACONS.

Royal Commission, Lights, Buoys, and Beacons,
7, Millbank-street, S.W., London, 9 February 1861.

Sir,

WITH reference to the Funds required by the Light House Commission, and the sums paid on account of the Commission up to this date, I am directed to state that the sums advanced to me amount to 1,800 l., of which a balance of 164 l. 10 s. 5 d. is still in my hands. Accounts have been rendered and approved up to the 31st of October 1860. Several sums are still due and unpaid.

I am informed that the sums voted amount, in all, to 3,900 l., and the sums paid by the Paymaster General to 3,290 l., leaving a balance on the 31st of January 1861 of 610 l., which is, I presume, exclusive of the balance in my hands.

I am not informed of the amounts claimed by the Trinity House, the Commissioners of Northern Light Houses, and the Ballast Board, nor whether they have been repaid by the Treasury the sums expended by them on extra clerical assistance; an expenditure over which the Commissioners have no control, and of the propriety of which they had no means of forming an opinion.

If 610 l., the balance available, does not include the balance in my hands, and if the sums paid to the General Light House Authorities are provided for, I have reason to believe that the future expenditure of the Commission will be covered by the available balance. But if the sums claimed by the General Light House Authorities have not been paid, it will be necessary to provide a further amount, sufficient to meet those outstanding claims, if they are to be included amongst the expenses of the Light House Commission.

I am, &c.

G. A. Hamilton, Esq., &c. &c. &c.
Treasury.

(signed) J. F. Campbell,
Secretary.

INDIAN ARMY SANITARY.

4, Old Palace Yard, Westminster, S. W.
22 February 1861.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Commissioners to state, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, that, although it is difficult accurately to estimate the probable amount which may be required to meet the expenses of witnesses travelling from various parts of the country to give evidence, shorthand writers' notes, and other clerical assistance, for the year ending 31st March 1862, it is anticipated that 1,000 l. will be sufficient for these purposes during the period in question.

I have, &c.

EDUCATION.

17, Great Queen-street, 30 November 1860.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Education Commissioners to inform you that the original Commission was issued on the 30th June 1858, and that a second Commission was issued on the 30th June 1860, prolonging the powers of the Commissioners until the 30th June 1861.

The Commissioners have completed their inquiry, and are preparing their Report, which they hope to publish early in February. The arrangement and publication of the Appendix will occupy some further time.

They have no doubt that their duties will be entirely completed by the end of June 1861, when their Commission expires.

The sum required to defray the expenses of the Commission will consist of a half year's salary for the officers of the establishment; a statement of which is enclosed.

I am, &c.
(signed) J. Fitzjames Stephen,
Secretary.

SALMON FISHERIES.

Sir, Exeter, 30 November 1860.

I AM directed by Her Majesty's Commissioners appointed to inquire into the Salmon Fisheries of England and Wales, in reply to your letter of the 28th instant, requesting that a statement should be transmitted to you showing, 1st. The probable sum that will be required to defray the expenses of the Commission during the ensuing year; 2d. The progress made by the Commissioners during the past year; 3d. The date of the issuing of the Commission; 4th. The probable duration of the inquiry; to state, 1st. DOCKYARDS.

My Lords, Chippenham, 23 December 1860.

IN reply to a letter received from the Admiralty, December 20, 1860, signed C. Paget, I beg to state, as Chairman of the Commission to inquire into the Dockyards, that the expenses of the Commission in 1861-62 will be limited,—

1st. To the charges of the shorthand writer, and Messrs. Gurney's demand.

2d. The remuneration of the Secretary, who acts also as Accountant, who was appointed by Her Majesty's Government, but the scale of the remuneration has not been yet ascertained, which would be desirable.

3d. The expense of the messenger is 25*s.* per week.

4th. A copying clerk may be required towards the end of the time, when drawing up the Report of the Commission, and the Appendices, which may be voluminous.

5th. The expenses of the witnesses that may be summoned in London.

There is money in hand for any casual expenses.

The account stands thus:—

1860:		£.	s.	d.		£.	s.	d.
July 2 - - -	Paymaster General	250	–	–	Expenses, as by Vouchers and Accounts - - -	256	16	5
December 8 -		250	–	–	Balance in hand at Drummonds' - - - -	243	3	7
		£. 500	–	–		£. 500	–	–

All the Dockyards have been visited, and 25 days' evidence have been taken, with 7,000 to 8,000 questions and answers.

Messrs. Gurney's charge, exclusive of the expenses in travelling of the shorthand writer, for the 25 days, is reported to be 297 l. 2 s.; and probably two-thirds of the entire evidence is taken.

It is to be hoped that the duties of the Commission will be concluded in 15 to 18 months from the date of the Commission.

I am, &c.

The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

Note.—The Law which authorised the Commissioners of Customs to provide Warehouses for the warehousing of Tobacco having been repealed by the Customs Act 20 & 21 Vict. c. 62, the Warehouses rented by the Crown in London have been given up; but Tobacco which had been warehoused before the passing of the Act is allowed by the 7th section thereof to remain in warehouse on the previously existing terms for a period not exceeding five years from the date of the last preceding warehousing of the goods, and the Crown is therefore required to pay the rent thereof; the amount will gradually decrease, and after the year 1862, no further sum will be required on this account.

The rent repaid to the Crown for Tobacco warehoused in London amounted, in the year ended 31st March 1860, to 322 l. 5 s. 7 d., and has been brought to account as Customs Revenue.

Note †—Previous to the passing of the Customs Amendment Act, 1857, the Crown provided Warehouses for the deposit of Tobacco under Bond. The Crown is liable to the payment of Rent for the Warehouse which was provided at Liverpool, until the expiration of the Lease thereof; but the Premises have been sub-let at a Rent of 4,000*l.* per annum, and this amount will be brought to account as Customs Revenue.
